

The value of the trips and gifts that you receive from the broadcast industry, as reported on Now, is shameful. Your lack of interest in your boss's (the public's) opinion is doubly shameful. I expect you to keep ownership rules as they are because you cannot escape the huge volume of requests by the public to do so.